Award Explanations

Cubmaster of the Year: This award will go to a Cubmaster that goes above and beyond to ensure a quality Cub Scouting program in their pack. This could include working with parents and committee to ensure a fun filled annual program plan, great support for pack's den leaders, or simply adding that "something special" at pack meetings that make a good program great.

Scoutmaster of the Year: This award will go a Scoutmaster that goes above and beyond to ensure a quality Scouts BSA program in their troop. This could include working with parents and committee to ensure a fun filled annual program plan, great support for assistant Scoutmaster's and/or Patrol Leader's Council, or simply adding that "something special" at troop meetings/campouts that make a good program great.

Committee Chair/Committee Member of the Year: This award will go to the unit committee chair or committee member that gives outstanding service to their unit. Much of their work may be unseen by most unit members, but without them the unit program would not be as strong as it is. The work quietly behind the scenes to ensure the unit leadership have the tools and resources they need to be successful.

Rookie of the Year: This is a person new to Scouting, just joining the volunteer ranks in 2020. They not only joined your unit but hit the ground running with energy and enthusiasm. Their contribution to your unit has been infectious and encouraged others to get involved as well.

Volunteer of the Year: This individual has made a tremendous contribution to Scouting in 2020. Their service to Scouting has had a greater than usual impact on a Scout(s) life and went above and beyond to ensure a fun, safe, and rewarding Scouting program for your unit, the district, the council, or Scouting as a whole.
